United States District Judge

RE: STACI RUEH
Docket Number: 1:03CR05234-01 OWW
RESTITUTION ORDER

Your Honor:

On January 5, 2004, the defendant appeared before the Court for Judgment regarding the violation of 18 USC 287, False Claim to an Agency of the United States. She was sentenced to 24 months probation, mandatory drug testing, and a $100 special assessment. In addition to standard conditions of probation, she was also ordered to: submit to warrantless searches, provide requested financial information, not incur new credit without permission and cooperate with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regarding the repayment of monies that remain uncollected.

The defendant is set to terminate from probation on January 4, 2006.

The probation office contacted a representative from the IRS who advised that the defendant owed $2,950 as restitution. The defendant has since submitted full payment to the U.S. District Court Clerk's Office.

The clerk's office indicates, since there is no specific restitution order, they cannot release the money to the IRS. The Judgment and Commitment Order states the defendant must cooperate with the IRS in the repayment of monies, but does not specifically indicate an amount.

To remedy the situation, it is recommended that the Court order the clerk's office to disburse the $2,950 that they are holding to the Internal Revenue Service (see proposed order on page 3).

If there are any questions, the Court is welcome to contact the undersigned at (661) 861-4422.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Rick C. Louviere
